WORK SPEEDED ON NEW BILLS

Senate Way Ahead of House But Recess by Mid July Extremely Unlikely

SKELETON NRA NOW LAW

Signed by Roosevelt After House Passes Measure With Minimum of Debate

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON June 15—Calling both houses of congress into an unusual Saturday session new deal leaders sought today to prod them into a race to clear the many hurdles confronting the Roosevelt program

The senate was way ahead of the house on the administration's list of must legislation—and the leaders of the latter branch were striving to catch up but in neither chamber was there much optimism that the goal of adjournment by mid July could be attained unless some of the new deal program is scrapped

One source of woe to the leaders was past—the plant to extend until next April a codeless fraction of NRA had been charted into law The house listened without interest to a brief final debate yesterday and then passed the extension resolution along to President Roosevelt 336 to 31 He signed it immediately

Attacked by Sibley
Harper Sibley president of the United States Chamber of Commerce meantime attacked the resolution on the ground that a senate amendment which seeks to tighten up the anti-trust laws threatens new uncertainty for business He continued the language added to the bill was obsure and ambiguous

In a radio address he advised business men to turn to the fed

AYRES VISIONS BETTER TIMES WITH NRA GONE

Predicts Improvement After Adjustments to Changed Business Conditions

WARNS AGAINST OPTIMISM

Claims Building Construction and Financial Revival Are Needed Now

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND O June 15 — Col Leonard P Ayres predicted today a period of generally improved business conditions will follow the suspension of the numerous NRA codes

"The first and safest conclusion is that conditions will probably improve after the necessary readjustments to the changed conditions of conducting business have been worked out" he said in his monthly survey of business and industry

"Nevertheless we should not let our expectations become unduly optimistic merely because the codes have been suspended" he cautioned "Vigorous industrial recovery in this country is dependent on two additional conditions

One is a considerable expansion of building construction and the other is a revival of new corporate financing through the floating of long-term bonds for industrial expansion and the improvement of productive equipment

Visions More Confidence
Asserting that the supreme court's decision against the NRA will give business men greater confidence to loosen the purse strings for new corporate financing Col Ayres added that this betterment might easily be offset by new legislation creating additional uncertainties

The future of business he said still depends on whether reform is officially given precedence over recovery or recovery is considered as a prerequisite to enduring reform

Col Ayres averred that in the two years American industry operated under the codes it made almost the worst record among the nations of the world in so far as recovery is concerned In June 1933 he said industrial production in the United States was 92 per cent of the 1923-25 average At present he said the level is approximately 84 per cent

Although some industries notably automobiles have made large gains the declines of some and the small gains of others which Col Ayres termed poor showings indicate he said that our depression problems are still awaiting solution

Sees Stock Bargains
The business analyst found figures to indicate the stock market is offering bargain prices for investors Common stocks are now distinctly cheaper in terms of their yields than they were a year ago he said

In March of last year the stock were selling at nearly 23 times their average dividends while in March of this year they were selling for not much over 18 times their dividends he said

POST SPANNING NATION IN AIR

Expects To Cross U S in From Seven to Eight Hours Through Stratosphere

GOES UP OVER SIX MILES

Drops Landing Gear After Start and Will Slide in at New York on Skid

By The Associated Press
BURBANK June 15 Wiley Post at the union air terminal here at his fourth attempt to span in a stratosphere flight to New York The famed flier at altitudes ranging between and seven miles above the earth surface hoped to be at field in New York in seven eight hours

Starts at 7 21 a m
Post wearing the man from Mars stratosphere suit lifted his ship off the ground at a m Eastern Standard time

A crowd of high school boys and girls looking over the sky cheered Post as he roared away

The takeoff was without incident and Post dropped his detachable landing gear as he neared the end of the runway

He will land the Winnie Mae on a special skid forming a part of the plane's belly

Daylight was just peeping over the field as he took off and a hazy fog cloaked the upper levels just above the ground

Weather reports from the middle west particularly in the Chicago region were not favorable but Post was determined to make the trip today without further delay

He planned to follow the great circle route via Omaha and Chicago

Ship in Good Shape
The Winnie Mae apparently functioned in good shape after her warm up this morning

Larry Therkelson National Aeronautic association timer said the official time of Post's takeoff was 4 27 a m (7 27 a m eastern standard time)

Post who twice has flown around the world in his plane has encountered repeated misfortune in his stratosphere flights

Forced down by mechanical difficulties on his previous three trips Post was ready for a fourth attempt two days ago Then the Winnie Mae developed magneto trouble just as he was warming up for the takeoff

The flier seeks to demonstrate the feasibility of stratosphere flying for commercial type planes stressing the benefits of speed and cheaper operating costs in flights through the higher altitudes

While he declared that possibility of shattering Col Roscoe Turner's existing transcontinental speed of 10 hours 2 minutes is merely incidental to his experiment Post hopes to fly the route in 8 hours or less

Turner's mark he pointed out was set in a plane stepped up for speed while the Winnie Mae although fast is equipped primarily for stratosphere journeys

He will be guided enroute across the country by radio broadcasts from stations up to 900 miles ahead of him A needle on a radio compass indicates his course

Roaring along through the rarified atmosphere Post gets air from oxygen pumped into his bizarre helmet by a generator in his ship Failure of the equipment to function would mean that he could not breathe long and the hypo pressure would cause his nose, ears and possibly his eyes to bleed

FAVORABLE WEATHER DROPS GRAIN PRICES

Little Change for Better Seen as Crop Conditions Are Favorable

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 15—After a wavering start grain prices turned downward today. Fears asserted that so long as weather and crop conditions kept favorable there was not much likelihood of the wheat market making any important headway. Opening [illegible] off to ½ up, July 80 [illegible] wheat then sagged all around. Corn started unchanged to lower, July 78 [illegible] 79 and soon underwent a general setback.

Wheat broke the season's low price record for July and September deliveries.

Reports of beneficial rains in spring wheat territory had a decidedly bearish effect. Need of dry weather in the corn belt exerted a late steadying influence on the corn market.

TWO GRIEVANCE BOARDS NAMED

Committees Will Settle Problems Arising in County Relief Program.

Two grievance committees which will arbitrate the complaints of relief clients and FERA workers in Marion county were set up yesterday by the Marion County Relief administration. The Central Labor union is represented on the works division committee.

The labor union this week appointed A. J. Owens to represent the union. Other members are Erwin J. Nesper, works division manager, and Fred B. Scherff, manager of the Federal State Employment service here, who will act as chairman. Mr Scherff was selected as the third member by Mr. Nesper and Mr Owens.

Direct Relief Committee

The direct relief grievance committee is composed of John Abel, Marion county relief director, Miss Helen Kohn, case supervisor, and Harry Von Kaenel case worker.

The works division committee will accept for consideration complaints from FERA employes on works division projects only. Complaints are to be submitted in writing, and a hearing will be granted the complainant if the committee after an investigation considers the complaint justified.

If the difficulty can not be satisfactorily adjusted by a unanimous vote of the committee members, the complaint will be forwarded to the state grievance committee in Columbus.

The nature of the grievances which will be considered fall into four classes as follows: prevailing wage rates, classification on relief work rolls according to occupation, general working conditions, and discriminations.

Harry Von Kaenel will act as secretary to both committees. He will receive complaints of direct relief clients and will act as mediator between the client and the visiting case worker. If he is unable to adjust the difficulty satisfactorily, the complaint will be turned over to the direct relief grievance committee for consideration. Definite hours in the day will be set aside when clients may bring their difficulties to Mr. Von Kaenel.

Similar grievance committees have been appointed in each county relief administration in the state, Mr. Abel said.

Wholesale changes in administrative setup of the Ohio relief organization were announced today by C. C. Stillman, state FERA chief, The Associated Press reported. As a result of the shake-up Miss Eleanore Schoopke, of Columbus, has been named district cases upervisor for district No. 6, comprising Marion, Delaware, Crawford, Morrow, Richland, Wyandot, Ashland, Erie, Huron, Knox, Lorain, Medina, Ottawa, Sandusky, Seneca, and Wayne counties.

DRIVER ESCAPES AS CAR OVERTURNS

An automobile driven by a Columbus man was badly damaged and the driver narrowly escaped injury early last night when it overturned in a ditch near Waldo after a tire had blown out. The identity of the driver was not learned. Service men at the Haberman Chevrolet Co., where the car was towed, estimated damage at $200.

DUCE OUSTS WRITER

DAVID DARRAH

Col Robert R McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, does not intend to send another correspondent to Rome to replace David Darrah, Tribune correspondent who was expelled from Italy by the Mussolini government. Col McCormick was asked about the incident as he waited in Cleveland for a plane to Washington.

"I wasn't surprised," he said. "It's a wonder they didn't do it before. Send some one else to Italy? No, I don't think so. I don't see any reason why I should send a man there just to take government handouts."

Darrah said no causes or explanation were given for his expulsion, but added that no one can remain in Italy and tell the truth about the African dispute or Italian financial affairs.

FHA WILL BUILD MODEL HOME HERE

vard. If preliminary arrangements are followed through, it will be finished, completely furnished and opened to the public for inspection for a period of several weeks next fall.

He also said tentative arrangements are being discussed for construction of a second model home on Bexley avenue in Vernon Heights under the same program. This house, if built, is expected to cost between $5,000 and $6,500.

It is planned to have title to the model house placed in the name of a trustee to be sold to a private owner later. The house will incorporate all improvements in building construction made during the last several years and will be furnished before it is opened for public inspection, Mr. Brown said.

Mr. Daley told the Marion county better housing committee that 25 such houses are being started throughout Ohio today as part of a nationwide movement to start construction of 2,000 new houses with the financial help of the federal housing administration.

In recent months the Marion county committee also has been stressing the opportunities, under the federal housing act, for home owners to improve their properties and for business building owners to do likewise.

BRITAIN FORMS AERIAL DEFENSE

Eight Battalions Placed on War-Time Basis for Anti-Aircraft Duties.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 15—Great Britain today ordered formation immediately of eight battalions on a war-time basis for anti-aircraft defense. The surprise war office announcement, culminating the nation's air force expansion, said five units will be made over into searchlight battalions and three more including the famous royal fusiliers will become anti-aircraft artillery brigades.

The order by the army council provided only for the London area, and organization of similar units for the great midland manufacturing cities was expected.

Would Be Needed at Outbreak

The war office emphasized the necessity that the new units be "ready for action immediately on the outbreak of war or even earlier."

The eight new units, taking up a task described by the war office as "of outstanding importance," were ordered detached from their old regimental ties at once to enter a strenuous course of training for a first line of defense.

Giant searchlight batteries were prescribed, to stud the sprawling London area and cooperate with the anti-aircraft artillery, to be set up at vantage points for the first time since the World war.

Dr. Smith, a candidate for Eighth district congressman last year, asserted he felt Marion residents should be consulted before action was taken by officials on any important municipal question, such as proposed purchase of the water plant, that the City hospital and other city departments should be "freed from politics" as much as possible and that the city's case against William E. Marks should be withdrawn, permitting him to return to the position of police chief.

Mr. Prettyman said he will seek nomination and election on his record, asking the voters to support him on his services as councilman-at-large four years and president of council one year and asking the Republican party for support on his services as president of the party organization for two years and chairman of the Marion County Republican Executive committee for four years.

Candidates for municipal judge and city board of education were not required to file their declarations of candidacy prior to last night's deadline. They will be nominated by petitions which must be filed 60 days prior to the general election in November.

The term of Municipal Judge William R. Martin will expire this year. Members of the city board of education whose terms will expire this year are Frank C. Gegenheimer, Harry Albrecht and Don Howard, the latter now serving the unexpired term of Hector S. Young who resigned from the board to become common pleas judge.

SUMMER FLOWERS FILL DISPLAY ROOM

admission, but the doors were closed to all except those on official business.

"Thrilled" was the one word the women of the club could find at noon to describe their feelings over the response the public gave to their project. From Mrs. M. J. O'Connell, president, and Mrs. F. R. Mann, general chairman, to the very last committeewoman, today was a thrilling day.

Merchants Cooperate

Merchants of the city cooperated with the club by making colorful and attractive displays, among them an outdoor living room, garden-making equipment, books and magazines on gardens, a lovely window display of roses, delphinium and greenery, and an unusually pleasing flower and vegetable garden against a set built to represent a kitchen. Inside was placed an all-electric kitchen, from which visitors to the show will be served cookies and ices.

On the balcony at the rear of the room was placed a display of pottery suited for flowers and flower arrangements, and a display of wild flowers.

Two of the highlights of the show this morning were a shadow box of black in which was lighted a silver urn of poppies, and the window of miniature pieces. The women set up shelves the full length of the window and hung drapes to set off this delightful section.

A group of merchants furnished one of the windows with a table set with rock crystal service with a centerpiece of pink roses and pink candles, and around the edge of the window, various flower groupings.

Variety in Displays

Peonies, single and double varieties, roses, columbine, double syringa, delphinium, Sweet William, Siberian, Chinese and German iris, peach bells, Canterbury bells, daisies, forget-me-nots, Oriental poppies, wisteria, hardly heliotrope, anchusa, gaillardia, amarillis, lilies, miniature bouquets, miniature centerpieces, in a riot of color, singly and in groups, transformed the room into a bower of beauty. The table centerpiece section was especially attractive, and there were several beautifully appointed breakfast trays.

Mrs David W. Evans and William T. Smith made a series of attractive wall posters which added to the appearance of the room.

Tells of How Assailant Battered Her With Pushcart; Suspect Jailed.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., June 15—Mildred Hanks, 12, of nearby Lawrenceburg, Ind., died last night—victim of injuries caused, according to her story to her father, when she was battered against a wall with a pushcart in the hands of a Lawrenceburg World war veteran who is held in jail there.

Police Chief Louis Griffith and Sheriff Edward Henke questioned a man registered as Sherman Sunshine for an hour last night after informing him of the girl's death. The alleged attack took place Wednesday.

He argued his innocence, Griffith said. Sunshine is held on assault and battery charges.

According to Richard Hanks, the girl's father, Sunshine mistook his daughter for another girl of similar age, against whose family he had an asserted grudge.

JAPANESE POUR MORE TROOPS INTO CHINA

New Demands Made After Detention of Four Nippon Men at Changpei.

By The Associated Press

TIENSTIN, China, June 15 — Japan poured more troops into Tientsin and Peiping and massed forces near Shanhaikwan today as two series of demands confronted Chinese authorities.

Fresh representations were made to Chahar province authorities as a result of the detention at Changpei Wednesday of four Japanese.

General Yo Ying-Chin, Chinese minister of war, went to Nanking and plunged immediately into conferences with government leaders concerning the original demands for elimination of anti-Japanese elements in Hopei province.

Japan's newly arrived troops took stations in the Tientsin and Peiping garrisons, ostensibly as replacements, while foreign sources confirmed reports that nearly 5,000 soldiers were concentrating at Shanhaikwan, on the sea end of China's Great Wall.

Japan's war officers, asserting the Chahar incident is "engaging our most serious attention," said the new demands in that province were for: An end to anti-Japanese activities, punishment for persons responsible for detaining the Japanese and an apology and assurance against any recurrence of such incidents.

G-MEN BRING SLUMP IN BANK ROBBERIES

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 15—"G-men" and state police by warring on the Dillinger gang, that of "Pretty Boy" Floyd and Bob Zwick—the latter of Hamilton and Cincinnati—caused a slump of more than 50 per cent in Ohio bank robberies during a 12-month period this year and last, members of the Ohio Bankers' association were informed.

The association's bank protection committee said that whereas the 1933-34 record was 55 robberies, fewer than 25 had been recorded in 1934-35, and that 80 per cent of the criminals involved either had been slain or sent to prison. Majority of the loot also has been recovered during the last year, the committee reported.

ONE KILLED, 50 HURT IN RIOTS

Seven in Serious Condition, One Near Death After Omaha Strike Fights.

By The Associated Press

OMAHA, Neb., June 15 — John Duster, 24, a milk wagon driver was shot to death and at least 50 persons nursed injuries today as an aftermath of the third successive night of rioting in the Omaha car strike.

The authorities reported the situation under control early today.

Dewey McCoy, 35, was reported near death from bullet wounds in the head and chest and William Hutter, Jr., son of a former [illegible] county sheriff, was dangerously injured. The condition of seven others was described as serious.

The rioters burned six street cars during the night and stoned the police in several sections.

Thirty-One Suffer Gun Wounds

A check of the injured, among them several women and three policemen, showed early today that 31 were suffering from buckshot wounds and the others were hurt by police clubs or were struck by missiles. Forty one policemen who received treatment for scratches and bruises and who returned to duty were not counted among the casualties.

Duster who fell in the first blaze of fire from police riot guns lay for several hours in a morgue before his body was identified by a brother-in-law. Duster is survived by a widow and a small daughter.

At the height of the disorders, Chief of Police Robert Samardick and Mayor Roy N. Towl urged Lieut. Gov. Walter Jurgensen, acting governor at Norfolk, Neb., to call out the militia.

Jurgensen denied the request and suggested that the sheriff swear in a large army of deputies.

Police Shoot Into Crowd

The disorders, the third in as many days, broke out at Twenty-Fourth and L streets, where police previously ordered to shoot if necessary, turned their riot guns on a crowd which refused to disperse. Within a short time crowds were stoning cars at many points in south Omaha. Police again opened fire on another crowd at Thirty-Fifth and K streets, almost in front of a church.

The first street cars fired were on West L street. Several more were burned on Railroad avenue and others were fired on a viaduct at Twenty-Fourth and Q streets, in the heart of the packing house district. The flames spread to the viaduct and the crowd fought vainly to block firemen from reaching the blazing bridge. Two trams were overturned and burned on the Albright line. Guards were allowed to leave them unmolested.

HARDING MUSEUM, HOME REDECORATED

scaped to conform in appearance, with the Harding property and the former Freeland property west of the museum.

A number of changes in the arrangement of the museum pieces have been made to lend a more homelike and cheerful atmosphere to the home, and additional pieces and pictures have been placed among the collections, including the library table with which the Hardings started housekeeping and at which Mr. Harding sat the night the landslide election returns placed him in the nation's highest office.

An oil painting of the late president and paintings and photographs of members of the families of his father and mother have been attractively arranged on the wall in one of the rooms.

Interesting Photograph

An interesting group photograph recently hung shows Mr. and Mrs. Harding entertaining at dinner in the state dining room in the White House in Washington, members of the Elephant club composed of newspaper men who reported the famous front porch campaign. Among them is Edwin C. Hill, then with the New York World, and now generally rated as America's ace reporter and radio news commentator. The photograph is the first ever taken in the state dining room.

A wall clock which hangs above the stairway inside the front door of the home, presented to Mr. and Mrs. Harding 44 years ago yesterday by the late M. A. Turney, who was a prominent Marion jeweler, as they were preparing to be married, is still ticking off the minutes. Mr. and Mrs. Harding's forty-fourth wedding anniversary will be July 8, this year.

The Harding home and museum has been redecorated by those in charge of the museum to make it more attractive for Marionites and tourist visitors.

EIGHT LIVES TAKEN BY FLOODS IN TEXAS

By The Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 15—Floods that have claimed at least eight lives rolled down the valleys of half a dozen southern Texas streams today, leaving thousands of persons homeless.

Scores of persons were missing and the damage to railroads, highways, crops and homes was unofficially estimated in the millions of dollars.

Of the known dead, five were unidentified Mexicans at Del Rio on the Mexican border; two were unidentified Negroes at Kenedy and the other was Lasaro Barrientez of Victoria.

The Nueces, Colorado, Llano, Rio Grande, Frio and Guadalupe rivers, fed all night by more rain and rising tributaries, swept across the country at record levels. It was difficult to obtain accurate reports of the damage in many sections because of disrupted communications.

eral trade commission for codes of fair trade practice to replace the NRA agreements the supreme court demolished. For years the trade commission has been engaged in setting up codes, covering some of the same practices as NRA's, but without labor provisions.

At NRA - where some predict the payroll will be slashed from 5,400 workers to 1,500 or less—gloom prevailed. Many workers expressed only the vaguest interest in the data-gathering and analysis which is to be a chief task of the agency.

As the senate gathered today to debate the social security bill, Democratic leaders indicated unconcern over the announcement of Sen. Long, Democrat of Louisiana, that he would try to attach his "share the wealth" program to the Roosevelt bill.

The leaders hoped to obtain a vote by Tuesday on the security program, already passed by the house. A shower of amendment proposals foreshadowed much fighting, however.

A major controversy centered around the question whether existing private pension systems shall be permitted to continue provided they meet certain standards. Senators George, Democrat of Georgia, and Clark, Democrat of Missouri, urged that they should, and proposed amendments to that effect.

Senator Hastings, Republican of Delaware, contended the bill would "punish the youth of the nation" to take care of those now old, while Sen. Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi, insisted the measure was a "well-rounded program of attack" on insecurity. Calling the program a "paupers bill," Long proposed to raise federal pensions from $15 to $30 a month and impose a capital levy on all fortunes of $1,700,000 or more.

He was to continue the questioning this afternoon. Underwood's injuries are not serious hospital attendants reported.

ETHIOPIA: WAR THREAT LOOMS for BLACK EMPIRE

POSTMAN PAUSES FOR LUNCH

In spite of the fact there are very few highways and only one railroad in Ethiopia the tradition that the mail must go through persists as vigorously as in [illegible] most modernized nations The postmen are barefooted messengers who travel through jungle and plain from the capital to provincial cities and to the frontier outposts where soldiers of the black empire anxiously await word of developments of the quarrel with Italy The messengers carry letters in the split end of a long stick a sacred symbol which exempts them from bandits Here a postman on one of these trips which take from three to six weeks pauses for a typical lunch of bread water from a pond by the trail and perhaps if he was fortunate a little wild fruit gathered along the way (One of a series of 15 pictures)

[illegible] Daphne is in [illegible]

CHAPTER 41

Daphne's Ruse

ALISON'S voice seemed to come from miles away as she said That's why you wanted me on the honeymoon

What are you talking about? But here was a gleam of fear now in Daphne's eyes Her voice was perfect incredulous a trifle impatient But it did not deceive the girl

To Alison it was as if a film was unrolling before her shadowy a little blurred that hotel among the mountains a climbing accident perhaps just one survivor A search party which failed to find two bodies already safely buried somewhere—buried maybe under the floor of an old Spanish kitchen

So neat so very simple No wonder Daphne had fought hard to make her go with them But even now now that she knew would her father be safe? Even while she lived Alison thought there were other ways Daphne might induce him to insure his life

Yet if she told her father Guy would be charged with murder—Daphne would see to that Could he prove his innocence? Was there any way to save them both? Must she choose between them? Guy or her father?

With a sudden brusque movement Alison eluded Daphne and stood up

I don't care what you say I'm going to the police

Oh? About what? Daphne seemed merely amused

I'll tell them everything—that you got Guy to go down there that you planned to kill me Alison was a little breathless That you killed your husband

You've said that twice There was menace in the slow tone I've said nothing I've made allowance for your state of nerves But twice is enough You must have some evidence Alison before you make wild statements of that kind

He has evidence" swore Alison rashly

Who? Dr Lumley I think not Daphne seemed completely self possessed People don't die in this country Alison without a death certificate and my husband died of a duodenal ulcer Fortunately I can prove that

She stopped for Alison was not listening

There he is"

A car had hooted outside Alison darted to the window But the car which had backed up to the pavement was not Guy's but her father's and the man who got out and stopped to speak to the chauffeur was Robert himself

Daphne had followed the girl their eyes met

"Well?" Vibrant with triumph

Alison did not answer she turned away with a sinking heart Twenty minutes! Where could Guy be? What could have happened?

The bell was ringing Was she going to face her father with the whole story tell him everything knowing that each word she spoke would strike at Guy? Daphne was looking towards the door expectantly.

White, shaking, desperate, Alison spoke almost to herself, "I wonder if father knows that. ."

"Knows what?" Daphne snapped out the words tensely.

"That your real name is Mrs. Poynter" He can't marry you [illegible] a false name, can he?"

Oh hush Be quiet

Such a small thing Yet there was Daphne staring at her with beady frightened eyes her face had turned a greenish white There was no vestige of her triumph left nothing but stark fear

The handle of the door was turning when Daphne's hand went out and clutched at Alison's arm

Listen Daphne muttered her lips close to the girl's ear I give in I'll break off the engagement Only don't tell him—leave it to me

Hallo? You here Where did you find her? Robert coming in looked from Alison to Daphne but neither answered

I don't know where you've been all night but you've given us both a most terrible fright It was very wrong of you very thoughtless Robert turned [illegible] from Alison to his fiancee Are you ready? I'm afraid I'm late but we got held up by traffic We ought to get on at once

P[illegible] Daphne did not move

Aren't you packed? he asked

Sit down a moment Bob I've got to talk to you Daphne trailed across the room fetched a new box of cigarets from the table where it lay between a bouquet and the box of chocolates She took a cigaret offered them to Robert but he shook his head

It's 1 30 already he said doubtfully Couldn't we talk in the car?

No It's something rather serious

What's happened?

Just this Daphne's voice was low tremulous I can't marry you Bob It's off

My dear What are you saying? He took her round the waist drew her in towards him Daphne? Darling are you mad?

No I mean it She slipped from his arm stood upright facing him grave pale and tragic

But wh—what on earth ? He swung round on Alison Almost shouted at her What've you been doing?

Hush Bob It's not her fault It's I who is wrong Daphne's tone was penitent

What're you talking about? he demanded

I was wrong last night" This was a new Daphne this grieving woman who confessed in slow pained words I didn't know the truth then I thought that Alison was making up all these tales because she was hysterical I didn't understand that she had heard something about me

Alison turning bewildered at this sudden change met imploring eyes that seemed to ask her for forgiveness as Daphne went on [illegible] have hated [illegible]

[illegible] what you're [illegible] I [illegible] knew what [illegible] I ought to have [illegible] when I [illegible] What's he [illegible]

[illegible] Daphne raised her [illegible] time was [illegible] that when I was [illegible] Lumley was [illegible] thing else happened He [illegible] off as if [illegible]

Don't tell me [illegible] if you don't want to [illegible] I don't care what [illegible]

[illegible] I wasn't [illegible] I swear [illegible]

[illegible] asked Bob sharply

That's my [illegible] said Daphne [illegible] my husband [illegible] that I never [illegible] He [illegible] strong [illegible] taking advantage of his [illegible]

Are you trying to [illegible] Alison began starting forward [illegible] her father [illegible]

[illegible] I want to hear what Daphne has to [illegible]

And Daphne went on [illegible] I tried to [illegible] him [illegible] course [illegible] that I'd [illegible] husband and get a [illegible]

That seemed to frighten him I thought I'd get [illegible] sensible Daphne declared And then [illegible] Bob It was [illegible] the cruelest [illegible] what he [illegible] He told the maid [illegible] of the house the nurse everyone that I was poisoning my husband

That's an abominable lie

But Alison's father [illegible] her with a look My [illegible] darling he sympathized patting her [illegible] arm

Can you imagine anything more mean more utterly beastly? There was a broken sob in Daphne's voice It was the nurse who told me She knew that I'd simply lived in his room look[illegible] after him in every way [illegible] cooked things for him myself because the French cook didn't know how to cook them as he liked sat up half the night done everything

She couldn't bear to hear people saying the things they were saying Oh Bob it was ghastly

Alison sees the hopelessness of helping her father Monday

This [illegible] as we are a [illegible] busy and occupied people [illegible] I do [illegible] a craving for pleasure I do not [illegible] others I do [illegible] whether it is a craving or the burdens I again would not want to attempt an answer.

However [illegible] budget after budget [illegible] made with daily [illegible] time and frequent [illegible] must be made [illegible] since [illegible] we have all [illegible] given away time [illegible] It is because of [illegible] seeming [illegible] of [illegible] we [illegible] the brief message [illegible] daily duties given [illegible] who controls [illegible] and [illegible] only time now [illegible] the time to come.

In the book of Exodus Moses was instructed to gather the manna daily and to provide likewise for a good table and [illegible] of duties. We are reminded in Nehemiah 8 that [illegible] reading of the Word of God is necessary. And [illegible] day from the first day unto the last day he read in the book of the Law of God. David [illegible] [illegible] as it should be [illegible] when he [illegible] praise with [illegible] I may [illegible] daily [illegible] David [illegible] I [illegible] daily [illegible] watch [illegible] Proverbs 8 34. Blessed is the man that heareth me watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors. [illegible] daily cross [illegible] Jesus and Let Him [illegible] up His cross daily. We should not want to [illegible] the [illegible] and leave no opportunity [illegible]

Finally Paul said Hebrews 3 13 Exhort one another daily. The [illegible] among our duties [illegible] read the Word [illegible] watch [illegible] and exhort others to follow the example of our Christ. May we fill our days with fruitful occupation utilizing every moment. May we make [illegible] of time budgets of the precious moments of each day. [illegible] no forget God both within our plans and outside and [illegible] above every other [illegible] He who gives Him second place gives Him no place at all. May you who read this plan pleasant and happy vacations but take God with you.

The play which has as its theme Our Responsibility to the Youth of Today is said by persons interested in young peoples work to carry one of the greatest messages to be presented in drama form.

The importance of character building and religious training as well as training for life in the business and professional world is forcefully brought out in the interpretation.

Mrs Roy W Kauble is director of the play and the musical background is featured by Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence. More than 20 persons make up the cast.

The Stars Say--

For Sunday June 16

Sundays horoscope is an intriguing one with certain signs of success in charitable or ecclesiastical affairs. But there may be strange or singular developments in other directions. Social domestic or romantic associations may cause concern and employment may develop unhappy angles or hazards. Make change with discretion and be on guard with strangers.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of some benefits and pleasures. There are signs of sudden and surprising developments calling for alert and circumspect conduct, especially in dealing with strangers and in strange places. The pure [illegible] private life as well as employment seem beset with peculiar dilemmas.

A child born on this day may be kindly, popular and well liked with social or artistic leanings. It also may be restless, unsettled and perhaps erratic or quixotic.

Notable Nativity: Gustav V of Sweden.

For Monday June 17

Mondays astrological forecast holds testimony of an entirely unforeseen visitation, possibly an upheaval or rearrangement of the affairs which may have a very important influence on the future life and destinies. It may be that an elderly woman may have an important voice in this reorientation which will mean great benefit providing extreme care is taken with all writings and in signing documents.

Those whose birthday it is face a year of sudden surprises and probably a complete about face in life. Important change, travel or new interests are shown, in all of which an elder[ly] woman may make the decisions. In all matters be careful with writings and signatures and refrain from impulses to be crafty or tricky.

A child born on this day will be very clever and versatile with leanings toward the untried and unusual possibly in science or invention. Early discipline is needed to suppress crafty tendencies.

Notable nativity: John Wesley, Methodist.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Growth Control

DOUBTLESS YOU have visited a circus and have been amazed at the side show where the giant and the dwarf reign supreme. Perhaps you wondered how one man can grow so tall and another is so [illegible]

With present [illegible] knowledge [illegible] difference [illegible] These [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] the pituitary gland.

The [illegible] gland known also [illegible] [illegible] the brain. The gland [illegible] divided into [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

In [illegible] acromegaly, or giant [illegible] the anterior lobe of the pituitary gland is unusually active. This leads to an unusual development of the bones of the body. The hands, feet and head become extraordinarily large. The lower jaw protrudes and the lower lip becomes thick and conspicuous. As a rule the victim complains of headache and dizziness and is very nervous.

Tumor or swelling of the pituitary gland may lead to violent and alarming symptoms. Surgery may be the only means of saving the life of the victim. In this delicate operation the diseased portion of the gland is removed. It is a serious matter but unfortunately there is no alternative. But brilliant results have been effected in many cases.

A great deal of knowledge has been acquired regarding other functions of the pituitary gland. This organ is now believed to play an important role in reproduction and the maintenance of youth. It is probable that further interesting and valuable information will soon be gained about this strange gland which is no bigger than the end of the average man's forefinger yet governs many important factors.

Vacations

THE barriers are down for the vacationists and road maps railroad guides picnic hampers and jugs will have their innings With the World's fair almost a whole continent away vacationists with a yen for visiting fairs will have some difficulty in reaching it in the customary allotted time even if the shrk is did look like hey would stretch that far so eyes and footsteps will trek in other directions The lead-off man on the vacation schedule is on the fence It looks grand at the take off a big outing sans alarm clocks and clanging telephones But a week or two hence when the rest of the gang casts off the role of a son of toil and your vacation is history well it takes something of an optimist to sign on the top line a second vacation period

And Vacations

ANYWAY vacations are like having a time to spend and a dozen or more places to spend it Sure as you're born if you go one place you'll wish you had gone one of a half dozen others and no matter how far ahead you plan there's a fly in the ointment somewhere You're a vacation pessimist or one of those folks that the sport is always in the chase and not the capture says you Well maybe so but nine times out of the much quoted 10 calm and collected pondering after the nick is are gone and the old reticule is back on the shelf for another twelve month proves it.

And More Vacations

OH well heigh ho we're off on a vacation with no port of call in view and a oney money miney mo schedule in our pocket and like a modern Alice in Wonderland we may have the time of our lives

"Hello," he said brusquely when he had taken from the receiver with delight I heard his part of a brisk give and take telephone conversation

"Are you the one who has been calling and asking for somebody who isn't here" he demanded waited for a second and then said explosively

"Say that name again! Oh Harrison Are you by any chance asking for my niece Mary Harrison?"

By the grin on my husband's face as he a listening pose I gathered that the man on the other end of the wire was talking excitedly

"I'll take your word for it" Dicky said a second later with what I knew was purposeful smooth arrogance "But you're wasting time and breath My niece is not here"

I saw his eyebrows knit as he listened and was not surprised when he said

Won't Give Information

"I cannot see what possible concern of yours it can be but if it were I should not give you the information I do not give information concerning members of my family to strangers My niece will be back here in a few weeks If you care to call around and if she wishes to talk to you which I doubt you can see her then.

Or if you wish to write to her I will give her the letter when she returns No I will not forward it I do not care to have the annoyance of a from a person of whom I know nothing while she is away from the shelter of my roof That is my last word Do the number again"

As he hung up the receiver with emphasis and his face struggled between anger and mirth I clasped my hands softly and

MARION BOOKS TWIN BILL SUNDAY, MONDAY

"Mr Dynamite" and "The World Accuses" Open Week at Local Theater.

A Mickey Mouse cartoon comedy will accompany the double feature program Sunday and Monday at the Marion. The pictures, "Mr Dynamite" and "The World Accuses," will be followed by Mae West's picture, "Belle of the Nineties," and "Million Dollar Baby" Tuesday through Thursday and "Justice of the Range" on Friday and Saturday.

Mae West

Edmund Lowe, Esther Ralston and Jean Dixon are featured in "Mr Dynamite," made from a story of Dashiell Hammett, who authored "The Thin Man." Lowe enacts the role of "Dynamite," a detective who is T N T to the police and who solves three baffling murders in an amazing fashion. Dickie Moore and Cora Sue Collins are the children in "The World Accuses" and they share billing honors with the adult principals, Vivian Tobin and Russell Hopton. Mary Carr, one of the beloved mother players of the silent screen, Robert Elliott and Bryant Washburn, another idol of the silent flickers, are in the supporting cast. The story is a dramatization of a recent front page news story in which a child is the innocent pawn in a battle between the family of the dead father and the modern life-loving mother who is deprived of her child through gossip.

Mae West's picture is a return showing. In this one Mae is the bad girl of the good old days. She's Ruby Carter, who becomes the sensation of a New Orleans gambling palace run by John Miljan. Ray Walker and Arline Judge are co-featured in the companion picture, "Million Dollar Baby." Jimmy Fay, probably the youngest female impersonator on the stage and screen, plays the role of a child who enters a contest conducted by a film company which is endeavoring to find another Shirley Temple.

CAGNEY FILM, G-MEN, BOOKED

Picture Opens Four Day Ohio Theater Run With 11 30 P M Show Tonight

The much-discussed and widely lauded film "G Men" leads off the Ohio's program for the week, starting a four-day booking today with a special show tonight at 11 30. The Wednesday, Thursday and Friday calendar will have two feature pictures, "While the Patient Slept" and "Red Hot Tires," shown under the auspices of the Sub-Deb club.

All the stir about "G Men" has given the term widespread public usage now in speaking of federal agents.

James Cagney, the star, the principal G-Man of them all, leaped into the role after a long series of pictures as a gangster and general tough guy succumbing to the cause of law and order. In his role of Brick Davis, a tough guy from New York's East Side who throws overboard a meager but promising law practice to become a G Man and exterminate the gang responsible for bringing to an untimely conclusion the life of his college chum, Regis Toomey, Cagney is tougher even than he has ever been before.

Gregory Rogers, author, built his story around the headlines that have been chasing one another across the front pages of American newspapers for the last two or three years. Margaret Lindsay and Ann Dvorak play the feminine roles in a supporting cast that includes Robert Armstrong, Barton MacLane, Lloyd Nolan, William Harrigan and Russell Hopton.

Those teamsters in fun, Guy Kibbee and Aline MacMahon, are co-starred in "While the Patient Slept." Lyle Talbot, Patricia Ellis and Allen Jenkins predominate the supporting cast. Kibbee plays the role of a blundering comedy detective carrying on a romance with Miss MacMahon, who plays the part of a nurse in the home in which a murder is committed.

"Red Hot Tires" is a love drama that blossoms during thrilling auto races in which daredevil speedsters battle for racing honors and two of them fight at the same time for the hand of a beautiful girl.

The racing scenes were taken at the American Legion Ascot Speedway in [illegible] Lyle Talbot and [illegible] are the [illegible] rivals for the love of Mary Astor. Sports fans who have been watching the [illegible] will see races between [illegible] these diminutive racers in some of the sequences. Frankie Darro plays the part of Talbot's [illegible] who is a speed demon in midget cars.

"G MEN" OFFER MOVIE FANS THREE STARS

Three of the principals in "G-Men," the Ohio offering for four days starting today, are James Cagney, Ann Dvorak and Robert Armstrong. The picture has been the inspiration for a cycle of feature productions extolling the work of the federal agents.

ENGLISH PICTURE COMING TO STATE

"The Man Who Knew Too Much" Booked

The State has booked one of the English motion pictures that has been bringing considerable favorable comment in the larger cities, "The Man Who Knew Too Much," for the Sunday through Tuesday program. [illegible] Best, wife of Herbert Marshall, who now spends all his time in the United States; Nova Pilbeam, the young English girl whose first feature picture was shown at the Palace two weeks ago; Peter Lorre and Leslie Banks are featured. Lorre, who plays the sinister arch criminal, created a name for himself as a delineator of [illegible] of terror due to his astonishing portrayal of the child murderer in the film "M," which was not shown in Marion. On the same bill is "The West on Parade."

"The Good Fairy," with Margaret Sullavan and Herbert Marshall, will be shown Wednesday and Thursday on a bill with "Sing Sing Nights," in which Conway Tearle and Mary Doran are also featured.

"Border Menace," starring Bill Cody, and "Dealers in Death," a [illegible] in which Walter B. Pitkin was editorial adviser, will be shown Friday and Saturday.

Promise Trouble

Although still located in the second [illegible] on the Saratoga team promises to give the league leaders plenty of trouble in the second round of games Wildness of both Shoemaker Erie moundsman and [illegible] Saratoga hurler cost [illegible] last night

The hitting of Milt Pohler Erie shortstop was largely responsible for the Railroaders victory while the fielding of Don Cressap kept the Saratoga nine out of much trouble Pohler doubled in his first trip to the plate to score Clark with the initial run of the game

In his third time to bat Pohler hit a terrific homer which rolled to the centerfield wall when Young misjudged the blow and evened the score at [illegible] Facing Eshman for the last time he singled and came home with the winning tally when Holliday connected

Cressap Saratoga outfielder made one of those colorful catches which have marked night games this week in the fourth when he leaped into the air and took Barr's hefty line drive He was also credited with five putouts Two errors at first by Erie's Lefty Clark were damaging the last coming in the seventh and costing the railroaders to lose their lead

Freddy Vestal ran into trouble in the eighth inning of the Elks Pleasant Lutheran battle at Lincoln park After yielding two hits he walked two men to force in the winning run in a fast 2 to 1 encounter The Lutheran team scored in the fourth inning and the Elks came back to even the score in the seventh

On Hitting Spree

The K of P outfit enjoyed a hitting spree at the expense of two Centennial Coal hurlers to win 13 to 5 at the Steam Shovel field Johnny Vestal Bud Cram and Ken Fields connected for circuit blows The losers scored all of their runs in the sixth when five hits including Ruppert's homer kept Centennial Coal from a shutout

Roy Converse celebrated his return to Marion softball competition by poling out a home run for the Westinghouse Cubs to score two men ahead of him in the fifth The Cubs won their tussle from the Eagles at President field 7 to 1 Two hits scored the lone Eagle run in the sixth

SOFTBALL INTEREST CLIMBS IN BUCKEYE STATE THIS SEASON

Increase in Number of Teams Reported in Survey; Tourneys Scheduled

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 15 From the factories and farms churches and classrooms all paths seem to be leading to the softball diamonds of Ohio

A survey made by The Associated Press in 14 representative cities [illegible] showed 3,[illegible] teams in action this year where only 2,843 [illegible] some [illegible] year ago an increase of 926 in the space of a single season

There was a time only a few years ago when softball was played only in the gymnasiums Then it moved outside caught the public fancy and was on its way Now miniature diamonds where softball and softball only is played have sprung up on practically every vacant lot in the state

Teams Affiliated

Not only does it seem that every one is playing it but they are playing in most instances under organized supervision hundreds of leagues are in action in some cases entire circuits being built up from the personnel of a single factory Then there are church loops school leagues and independent organizations

The majority of the leagues and teams are affiliated with the Ohio Amateur Softball association of which H Ross Bunce of Columbus is state commissioner The association will sponsor county tournaments Aug 10 district meets Aug 17 and a state tournament in Cincinnati Aug 24

The Queen City is the ideal spot for the state meet for 1,200 teams are playing there this year that figure being more than double any other in the state Last year but 800 teams played softball in Cincinnati the increase there being mirrored all over the state

Marion Adds Lights

Columbus showed the second greatest gain 148 teams but the capital city is still far below several others in the number of teams in action There they also have gone in for night play under the lights Marion added light equipment this spring

Newark showed the least gain adding but two teams to last year's total of 32 Athens led the list in the percentage of gain for 24 teams are playing there this season in place of the six which were in action in 1934

Canton and Youngstown added 100 teams each this year While Cleveland and Toledo boosted their 1934 figures by 50 each not one of the 14 cities showed a decrease in the number of players or teams

No estimate of the total number of teams in the state would be offered by state softball officials but all indicated that at least 100,000 boys and men are playing the game within the Buckeye confines

Braddock's Victory Brings on Promotors' War; Champion Gets Only $20,000 'Cut'

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK June 15 [illegible] new life for [illegible] the [illegible] trade James J Braddock [illegible] Max Baer [illegible] at least an [illegible] ring ranks [illegible] promoters

Braddock lined up with Madison Square Garden [illegible] will fight Max [illegible] Germany [illegible] Max Baer [illegible] damaged [illegible] fight [illegible] future [illegible] plant the [illegible] of the [illegible] ring Primo Carnera Joe Louis bout in a [illegible] match for the new Twentieth Century Sporting club [illegible] of the [illegible] ball parks Carnera and Louis meet June 25 at the Yankee Stadium

Max Not Last

The new champion may not last any longer on top than any of his immediate predecessors He is the fifth heavyweight titleholder since Gene Tunney retired undefeated in 1928 and the international scramble began As long as he holds the crown however the Garden retains the whip hand in the big title situation

Scarcely less happy than Braddock himself consequently were Colonel John Reed Kilpatrick the president and James J Johnson the scrappy little promoter of the Garden corporation They promoted the bout with misgivings and ran the risk of financial failure Like Braddock they came out with little except the assets which mean forthcoming profits as well as prestige

Kilpatrick said the temptation to [illegible] Braddock back into the ring in a fall in defense of the title has been discarded because of the conviction it is impossible successfully to build up more than one heavyweight title match a year

No Fall Attraction

This means the Garden will have no greater attraction this September to the prospective offering of rival promoters The Twentieth Century club has Art Lasky one of Braddock's victims lined up to fight the Carnera-Louis winner if Baer changes his mind about trying a comeback

The Garden would like to give Schmeling a test before sending [illegible] against Braddock [illegible] natural [illegible] Another Baer comeback [illegible] they are [illegible] sides of the fence [illegible] likely [illegible] be brought together

By the same token Baer [illegible] will get the chance for a [illegible] match with Braddock [illegible] wants [illegible] The Garden [illegible] on record as [illegible] or Carnera [illegible] Braddock's [illegible]

Gets Only $20,000

Braddock emerged from [illegible] conquest with scarcely $20,000 [illegible] cut up for the benefit of his manager family managers and the grocery man However the public reaction to his rise is such that he should have no difficulty making $100,000 this year from various sources of revenue He already is in much demand for vaudeville engagements exhibitions and endorsements

Jimmy's triumph has struck one of the happiest and most responsive notes in modern pugilistic history but there's no tendency to magnify his stature or class him with the great heavyweights of the Sullivan to Tunney line Braddock beat Baer cleanly and strictly on his own merits but the best that can be said for him is that he's the latest beneficiary in an erratic line of heavyweights who have been imitating humpty-dumpty for the past six years He's still just a plodder

OWENS TO RUN TODAY ON OLYMPIC TRACK

Almost Perfect Conditions Are Seen for Appearance of Buck Star on Coast

By The Associated Press

Conditions for the threatened assault on four records by Owens were expected to be perfect The Memorial Coliseum track one of the fastest in the world was in top condition Warm weather was promised and the sophomore sprint and broad jump star from the middlewest was facing the toughest competition of the season

The IC4A champions and a world's record holder were included in this list of opponents Co-Captain Normal Paul whose mark of 23 seconds flat stands on the books as a tie for the international peak set by Charles Brookins will meet Owens in the low hurdles

PIRATES, ATHLETICS WIN HITTING HONORS

Pennsylvania Monopoly Becomes More Pronounced This Week

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK June 15—The Pennsylvania monopoly on big league batting honors became even more pronounced during the past week as the one-third of the season mile post drew near with five of the Athletics clouters in the American League's First Ten and three representatives of the Pittsburgh Pirates and one of the Phillies in similar positions in the National League

With the marks of many of the leaders tumbling many of the Pennsylvania group held more prominent positions than before after yesterday's games Doc Cramer of the Athletics hopped from ninth place to fifth in the junior circuit while Jimmie Foxx and Eric McNair moved up a notch apiece despite falling averages

John Moore of the Phillies who had dropped clear out of the group of leaders returning to fourth place in the National with a .322 average and Paul Waner of the Pirates slipped back in

The first five regulars in each major league follow

SOUTH BEND Ind June 15 — As the race for the Western Open golf championship entered the second and quarter over the wood and water infested Chain O'Lakes course today a red haired professional of a St Louis shop and sock driving range—Francis Schwartz was out in front of the field by three or more shots Trailing him were several of the most noted performers in the game a few trailing by as many as 10 blows

ARRANGE TWIN BILL

The Saratoga Grill softball team will play a double-header against an Upper Sandusky club in the latter city Sunday afternoon The first game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock and the Saratoga player will report at 1 o'clock at the Saratoga Grill on West Center street

TWO PITCHERS HURL FINE BALL TO LOSE; RED CATCHER STARS

Campbell Clouts Homer To Win 2-0 Pearson's Wildness Drops Indians

By HUGH S FULLERTON JR
Associated Press Sports Writer

When it will be impossible [illegible] the old big league [illegible] league season [illegible] it seems worth [illegible] two of the best pitching performances [illegible] young 1935 campaign are recorded on the same day and neither of the pitchers who did the work was able to win his game

On fields separated by only a few miles Leon Chagnon of the Giants pitched a two-hit game against the Reds yesterday and lost 2 to 0 and William Watson Clark veteran Brooklyn southpaw gave the Pirates only three blows and suffered a 1 to 0 setback

Bottomley Back

Chagnon making his first appearance as a starting hurler in nearly two years apparently was a victim of circumstances in the second inning when the Reds did all their stickwork Jim Bottomley celebrating his return to action after a three weeks absence due to lumbago slashed a vicious liner down to first Bill Terry stabbed at it with his bare hand and the game was held up while the hand was inspected for possible injuries Getting back to work after the delay Chagnon grooved one for Gilly Campbell and the young catcher belted it into the stands for a homer

Meanwhile Paul Derringer winning his eighth game of the year neatly set the Giants down with four hits It was the same at Brooklyn where Bill Swift Pittsburgh flinger granted the Dodgers only five blows and caught his mound rival napping in the ninth to smack a double and score the only run on Forrest Jensen's two bagger

Pittsburgh's triumph moved the Bucs into second place in the National League as the Cardinals split a hard fought double header with the Braves Boston took the opener 5 to 4 when Wally Berger smashed a homer with two aboard After Dizzy Dean had toiled 13 innings in the nightcap the Cards finally won for him 8 to 7 on hits by Jack Rothrock and Jim Collins plus a sacrifice

Curt Davis of the Phillies making his first start since the season's opener showed that he had recovered from his sore arm trouble when he bore down in the clinches and beat the Cubs 5 to 4 although touched for 11 hits

Cleveland Loses

The American League produced a succession of weird slugfests the oddest of which saw the Senators beat the White Sox 12 to 11 in 11 inning after Chicago had overcome an 8 to 0 deficit Al Simmons hit a homer with the bases full and Washington's relief flinger Ed Linke knocked one with two aboard in the winning rally

The league leading Yankees had to go 13 innings to subdue the last place Browns 4 to 3 after tying the count in the ninth when Merritt Cain weakened toward the finish of a well pitched game Boston's Red Sox moved into a virtual tie with Cleveland for fourth place when they bowled over the Tigers 10 to 8 after blowing an early 7-3 lead while the Indians took a 5-4 setback from the Athletics due largely to Monte Pearson's wildness
